MILITIA TO BE AT THE FORTS ALL NEXT WEEK

They Will Have a Busy Time in Camp with the Regulars

Four hundred soldiers of the United States regular army and the New Hampshire national guard will be encamped at Forts Constitution and Stark all next week.

Something more than half of them will belong to the four companies of coast artillery reserves, recently organized in the New Hampshire national guard and located at Portsmouth, Exeter, Dover and Laconia. Captain Chauncey B. Hoyt of the first company, located at Portsmouth has been designated as commander of the guardsmen for this tour of duty.

The out of town companies will arrive by the early trains on Monday and, with the first company, will march to New Castle for the tour of duty at the forts.

At Fort Constitution, Capt. Hoyt and his men will report to Capt. R. S. McBride, commandant of the forts for orders, and will be assigned places to go into camp, and the first annual tour of coast guard duty will begin.

This tour will be devoted to drill and instruction, and the regular army men will serve as teachers for the state guardsmen. They will be taught the handling of machine field guns and the general work about the forts, and something in the line of scout duty along the coast, the same as would be needed to repel landing parties in the time of war. In order to make condition as nearly as possible like actual warfare, the details of work will not be announced in advance when it is possible to avoid doing so, but each order will be made as much of a surprise as possible.

A considerable number of the superior officers of the United States regular army are expected to be here to witness the work of the men.

The governor of New Hampshire and his staff will be in attendance and have arranged accommodations at The Wentworth hotel in New Castle.

TAFT WILL MEET DIAZ

But Will Not Take a Trip to Alaska

Washington, July 10.—President Taft while en route to Washington today, where he arrived last evening gave an outline of the tentative plans for his trip through the West and South this fall.

The President has abandoned all idea of visiting Alaska this year, largely owing to the fact that Mrs. Taft will not be able to go with him. She is rapidly improving in health, but he feels it would be too much of a strain upon his wife to ask her to go on the two months' trip.

As soon as the tariff bill has received the action of the President, Mr. Taft will go to Beverly, to remain until Sept. 15, his 52d birthday, when he hopes, if Mrs. Taft continues to improve, to begin his western journey. He will head for Seattle, stopping for brief visits at Denver, Salt Lake and Spokane. After visiting the exposition he will swing down to the southwest, stopping at Portland as the guest of Senator Bourne, and proceeding thence to San Francisco, where he will spend several days. He will go to Los Angeles, to stop several days with his sister, thence to San Diego and into Arizona and New Mexico. The President hopes to visit the Yosemite valley.

The President will stop for a time at El Paso, where he expects to meet President Diaz of Mexico. They have never met. The Mexican President wrote recently to the White House suggesting a conference at El Paso, and President Taft replied that he would be delighted to meet the Mexican executive about Oct. 15.

San Antonio, Austin and Dallas, Tex., are on his list, and the president expects to spend several days on the ranch owned by his brother, Charles P. Taft, at Corpus Christi, near Brownsville.

The President will stay at Houston and at New Orleans will attend the meeting of the deep waterways congress. He wants to stop for a time in the Bayou Teche country of Louisiana, the land of Evangeline, Jackson, Miss., Montgomery, Birmingham, Macon, Augusta, Savannah, Wilmington and Richmond will also be stopping places.

Summer people and permanent residents also, especially those living along the upper harbor or camping along the shores and near the river, are complaining of the whistling on the river in the early morning, usually between 3 and 4 o'clock. Joke About Who Got the Grass in the Highway

Every Summer Cottage in Town is Now Occupied

Eliot, Me., July 10.

Miss Hattie Paul of South Berwick is visiting her cousin, Mrs. William E. Falconer.

J. Frank York and James Criss both wanted the rank grass which grew in the highway limits about the corner of the Bell Hill road with Main and Pleasant streets. Mr. York spoke to Road Commissioner Victor P. Jundus for it, and Mr. Criss to the selectmen, and each got authorization to cut it. Mr. York got there first and is in possession of the hay. The selectmen and the road commissioner are laughing over the possible question of a conflict of authority, and Mr. Criss is trying to find out what he can do about the loss of a quarter ton of good hay. The incident has called attention to the value of this grass and it is expected that the next annual town meeting may give instructions as to its sale in the future.

Edwin C. Cary went to Worcester, Mass., this forenoon, to be gone over Sunday. He will direct the Marlboro military band in two Sunday concerts at a Worcester suburban park.

The Atlantic Shore Line railway is having an inspection made of its bridges. Only minor repairs are believed to be needed.

It is now thought that the Grange hall will not be built this year. The foundation may be set in the fall.

There are large numbers of summer arrivals today at Green Acre and other places in town. Every cottage in Eliot is said to be open now.

Miss Helen Ashton Ireland of Boston, who has been making a ten days' visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ireland of Eliot, returned today.

THE FLEET MOBILIZED

None of the many hundreds of naval reserves scheduled to arrive from a half-dozen Atlantic states to put in terms of shipboard education on the battleships has yet arrived.

EXPLOSION ON KEROSENE BARGE

Providence, R. I., July 10.—Two men were badly burned and one of them is dying, and $100,000 property damage was caused by a mysterious explosion of 125,000 gallons of kerosene on the oil barge Harrison at Harbor Junction early today. The police of the seventh district are now investigating to learn the cause of the blow up if possible. The barge and oil are still burning in the stream and the harbor is filled with dense black smoke.

Albert De Fosse, one of the barge crew, was hurled about forty feet along the deck by the force of the explosion, but managed to jump overboard and was pulled ashore by men on the dock. He is at the Rhode Island hospital, and it is not expected that he will live, as he has internal injuries in addition to severe burns.

Captain Fred May was badly burned and he, too, was rescued by men from the dock. He is being cared for by officials of the Texas Oil company, which owns the barge.

Two others of the crew escaped by jumping into the river.

While the total loss could not be correctly estimated early today, it is believed to exceed $100,000.

The tug, which was also considerably damaged, and the barge are owned by the Texas Oil company, an independent company.

BITS OF SPORTING NEWS

Horace Stetson has been appointed official scorer of the Elks baseball team and this means that it will be well done.

All of the baseball teams are looking for material to strengthen their teams for the question of who has the title of the championship will be a weighty matter for the baseball fans before the season is over.

Manager Jerry Lyons of the Elks baseball team is arranging a series of games for the summer. He has already secured dates with the local teams and will include York Beach, Dover and Rye Beach and other summer teams.

William Wilson, the golf professional at York Country Club, has made a new record for the course at that club which was recently lengthened some distance. On Monday of last week in a match with one of the regular players he made the eighteen holes in 66 which is two below his former record for the course.

Baseball fans have been hoping that the committee on public playgrounds will have bleachers erected near the baseball diamonds. It is a good suggestion for the baseball fans no matter how much of an enthusiast they may be, do not want to stand up to a baseball game. A cheap but substantially built bleacher would be all that would be required and it would materially help baseball.

There was some misunderstanding between the local baseball teams in regards to the games scheduled for today. The Elks and the Catholic Union were under the impression that the P. A. C. were not to play arranged a game for the Plains or Saturday afternoon. In the mean while the P. A. C. arranged a game with the York Beach team and there was a conflict, which was overcome by the Elks and Catholic Union deciding to go to Kittery and play. As soon as the P. A. C. found this out the cancelled their game for this city and instead will play in York Beach. The return game will be played in this city at a later date.

The proposed city league which in my opinion would be a great boon to baseball here has been given up. The P. A. C. did not care to enter the league on the ground that it would tie them down to every Saturday game and this they did not care to do. The result is that the whole matter has been thrown up and the three local teams the P. A. C., Elks and Catholic Union will arrange games as best they can. Although the local baseball team has given up active operations for the season, owing to the fact that all of their players have been taken by the other teams, Manager Dow says that they will get together once in a while just to show them what good base ball is. He has a game arranged later.

Look Out for Fakes and Frauds

In the Cosmopolitan Magazine for February, 1909, there is a long article on the Hair and Scalp by Woods Hutchinson, M. D., a writer of wide renown, and in it he says: "The strongest and most powerful curative element of scalp-tonics and hair-restorers is their smell. Most of them are fakes, pure and simple, and produce no effect whatever except upon the imagination and the nostrils of the users. The most common constituent of them all is alcohol, and the next common probably ammonia or some aromatic oil or extract which has the double advantage of a powerful odor and of producing a mild sense of warmth and local irritation. All of this class are mild irritants to the skin and produce a light temporary reddening by an increase in the amount of blood circulating through the scalp; but this has about as much effect on the hair-bulbs as the beams of the harvest moon have upon growing cabbages." The public is learning that falling hair, itching scalp and dandruff cannot be cured by these fakes and frauds; but that the only sure way to benefit the hair and scalp is to keep them clean and free from dust and disease germs. For this purpose Bird's Head Wash is most highly recommended because it is made of Refined Soap, White of Eggs, Cocaine, Coconut Oil, Glycerin and Salicylic Acid. Any doctor or hair specialist will tell you there are no better things known than these for cleaning the hair and scalp. Bird's Head Wash makes the hair clean, gives it a glossy lustre and restores it to a vigorous, healthful condition. It removes dandruff, dirt and disease germs from the scalp, opens up the pores, and gives the hair a chance to grow in the natural way. Bird's Head Wash is not a secret thing, but a standard preparation that careful, refined people use with safety because they know exactly what it is made of. Price 50c.

TARIFF BILL

It is Back in the House and Sent to a Conference Committee

Washington, July 10.—Bearing the scars of 347 amendments placed there by the senate, the Payne tariff bill Friday found its way back to the house exactly three months to a day from the time it was put through that body. Its reception was hailed with mingled feelings of joy and disappointment by members on both sides, who in responses in summation from their respective leaders turned out in great force.

Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee was prepared again to take charge of the momentous piece of legislation. It was precisely 12:23 o'clock when Clerk Crockett of the Senate appeared in front of the speakers rostrum and announced that the Senate had passed the tariff bill. He had the bulky document with him and turned it over to one of the house officials.

Two minutes later, on motion of Mr. Payne, the house took a recess until 1 o'clock, in order to permit the committee on rules to meet with a view of deciding upon a course of procedure in reference to the tariff bill to be recommended to the house.

Exceeding his best expectations, the secretary of the Senate had succeeded in having the bill enrolled with the senate enactments numbered and in shape to be presented to the house as soon as it convened, and Speaker Cannon was informed of this fact and presented with a copy of the bill by Sec. Bennett a short time before the house met. As presented the bill was a much more voluminous document than when it left the Senate. It contained 494 pages of print in addition to almost 50 pages of index. There were 347 amendments and there were all accurately numbered so that in every way the measure was found to be in proper shape for consideration by the conferees.

The members of the House began to congregate an hour or two before the time for the convening of the session, showing that there was eagerness to get to work whether it be hope of disposing of the bill or out of mere curiosity, as one member suggested "to see just what the Senate had done to it." Each member was soon supplied with a copy and the document was the object of general interest. The scene in the senate chamber was quite the opposite of that in the house. For the first time in months the senate had adjourned with the intention of meeting at noon. Since the tariff bill has been pending, the hour for convening has been 10 or 10:20 a. m. as the necessities of the occasion required. Friday the upper house was deserted. Not only were there no members in the hall much before 12 o'clock but there was very few around the building and even after the senate convened the attendance was comparatively slender.

Washington, July 10.—The state department has not found it necessary to ask that any war vessels be dispatched to Barranquilla, but the cruiser Tacoma and the gunboats Marietta and Paducah are in Central American waters and one of them will be sent to the scene of disturbance if necessary.

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—All streams in this section Friday were either falling or had become stationary and there were no indications of rain. Train service was improved, but schedules still were far from being adhered to. No additional loss of life was reported. Some apprehension is felt for the safety of people in rural districts.

Miss Bessie H. Littlefield of Minneapolis spent a few days recently with her former classmate, Miss Bertha F. Ramsdell.

Mrs. Arnold Grant and little daughter Dorothea are spending a few days with Mrs. Hannah Jacobs.

Miss Edwina Ramsdell is working at York Beach.

The Sunday School of the Christian church enjoyed a picnic at Mt. Agamenticus Wednesday. A good time is reported by the children. The old hill will be the scene of many pleasant gatherings this season.

The eleven year old son of Joseph Clark of Ogunquit was badly burned on Monday as the result of the explosion of a pocket full of dynamite caps which set fire to his clothes thereby badly burning him around the abdomen and thighs. Concord, July 10.—The payment of the reward of $100 offered by the trustees of the New Hampshire State hospital for the capture of Joseph Govin, the convict who made the break from the institution on Saturday, June 26, is held up until the attorney general, to whom the matter has been referred, can determine to whom the money shall be paid.

There are four claimants for the reward, a storekeeper who recognized Govin and notified the authorities at Canobie Lake to be on the lookout for him, the two officers who found the convict skulking in the woods near the lake, and a party who notified the officer of the town of Derry that Govin was in the neighborhood.

PEOPLES' OPINIONS

Newington—Not Poetry

It seems too bad for the people to be given the idea that the Newington boys are a bad lot. Now that is not so. They are just boys looking for fun and fun they will have, but as for doing any harm or injuring any one's property, that is a mistake.

Just a few harmless jokes were played on the sexton of the church last Halloween and Pope nights and if he had laughed, as other did, that would have ended it.

Well, the third of July came and he started in to protect the old church bell. He very carefully removed the tongue, then slept in the church that night, then Sunday night till 12 o'clock, he with his youngest son, held the fort within the church. Then the boys called on him with a few crackers, etc. So after a little he came out and told them to run home like good boys and wait until morning. That was what they were looking for and run they did, about twenty of them with the sexton giving chase, while two or three that had been quietly getting ready, rang the bell.

At a recent meeting they decided to brush the dust and cobwebs off the old machine and do a little pumping in preparation for a contest in case the crew of the latest importation, the Sareks, care to do a battle on the brakes. Portsmouth now has three machines and it's a question which one is the king pin. The T. W. Priest men say they are anxious to find out.

HODGDON—GOVE

Forrest E. Hodgdon and Miss Sarah Y. Gove, both of this city were recently married by Rev. George W. Farmer.

A Chinese Proverb's Origin.

"He'll steal your shoes" is an expression which in China is used to describe an ardent knave and pilferer. The expression is hundreds of years old and is based on an adventure perpetuated through the medium of decorated crockery ware. A wealthy Chinaman, whose gorgeously embroidered shoes were the envy of the community, was, according to the legend, despoiled of his pride in the following manner: A rascal one day rushed up, gave the rich man a hearty blow on the back and, seizing the astonished gentleman's hat, pitched it upon a high wall. The next moment the fellow seemed to discover that it was not an old friend he was greeting so enthusiastically and apologized profusely.

"How shall I get my hat?" inquired the man with the beautiful shoes. "Jump on my back, and you can reach it," replied the schemer. The suggestion was carried out, but while the hatless man was reaching for his head covering the rascal slipped off the handsome shoes and made away, leaving the simple minded millionaire clutching the wall.

America the Comfortable.

People with an average income of from $1,000 to $2,000 a year live in far more convenient houses in America than in England. The matter of water, heat, lighting, suitable kitchens and laundries is insisted upon with us and is lacking to an appalling extent in English country or even town houses and also in the more pretentious country houses themselves. The houses of the poorer classes, laborers, clerks, servants and the like, are mere boxes, with none of the conveniences to which Americans even of the poorer classes are accustomed.—Scribner's.

DR. HARRY P. CHASE DEAD

Prominent in this City and Exeter

Dr. Harry Prescott Chase, a well known and popular dentist of Exeter and this city died on Friday noon at the Cottage Hospital where he has been under treatment for the past ten days.

Dr. Chase was taken ill about two weeks ago and he rapidly grew worse and a specialist was secured from Boston, and later an operation was performed and at that time there was very little hope held out for his recovery, but his wonderful constitution stood him in good stead and he gradually grew better, until lately he had been failing and he died shortly after the noon hour.

He was a native of Newfields and was 38 years of age and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel I. Chase. After studying at Phillips Academy, Exeter he took a course in dentistry and some years ago began practicing in Exeter and he continued a most successful practice until the time of his death. He was justly popular in the Academy town and his death will be a great shock to his host of friends.

On July 4, 1906, he was united in marriage with Miss Julia Dearborn Moses of this city and for the past year he has resided in this city, where he made a great many friends.

He was prominent in Masonry in Exeter being a member in the Star of the East Lodge of that city. He was also a member of the Golf Club of this city. Dr. Chase was a whole souled and genial fellow and his death is a loss to both Exeter and this city. He leaves a wife.

SPRINGVALE'S NEW INDUSTRY

Springvale, Me., July 10.—Springvale's new industry, known as the Maine Manufacturing company, will occupy the old Butler building that has been put in shape for that purpose, in about a week. The building that had been unoccupied for some 25 years is of wood, four stories high, 100 feet long and 45 feet wide. It has been repaired and remodeled, with new floors and new windows, and will be both comfortable and attractive for the young lady employees. The company will manufacture overalls, tenting and canvas gloves and will send salesmen throughout the country in the interest of the plant. The principal owner,

W. B. Jordan of Eastport, stated to a reporter that the company will employ 150 women and girls at the start. In the fall the company expects to make an addition of 150 feet when it will give employment to over 300. The present remodeling has cost about $7,000 and the machines to be installed, many of which have arrived, will cost about $10,000. The plant will be equipped with steam heat and electric lights and will be run by steam, the water being furnished from the Mousam river. The mill was dedicated last Monday evening with a dance attended by 500 people.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR LITTLETON

Littleton, July 10.—The Sears-Roebuck company, true to the promise given a few months ago, has given Littleton the opportunity to profit by the expansion of its shoe business, and it now asks for the erection of a new factory for the manufacture of shoes. The company has decided to make women's shoes, a product which it has hitherto bought from other manufacturers, and if Littleton can produce the necessary capital to erect a new building the Sears-Roebuck proposes to use it for making the shoes now made at the Apthorp factory and to utilize the old factory for making women's shoes. The proposition is in every way similar to that which was advanced a few months ago by the Sears-Roebuck company and which the people of the town responded to by raising almost enough money to bring about the consummation of the project, when the Sears-Roebuck company decided to postpone the enlargement of their shoe manufacturing business for a while. That it was only a postponement is now evident.

MAIL DELIVERY DELAYED

Rochester, July 10.—The matter of the residents of upper Portland street having free delivery has been blocked for the present by the city council's committee appointed to consider it voting unfavorably. It seems that the postoffice department is willing to establish free delivery in that section as soon as a sidewalk is built, and the committee's reason for being adverse to the new sidewalk is that it will cost $400 to build it and as much more each winter to keep it free from snow, which drifts very badly there. The street appropriation is not sufficient to meet this additional expense at present.

The speeding of automobiles about the city has materially decreased.

COL. FRANK P. MERRILL DEAD

One of the Best Known of Traveling Men and Well Known Here

Col. Frank P. Merrill, who for 27 years has represented the paper manufacturing house of John Carter & Co., 100 Federal street on the road throughout New England and well known here died suddenly Thursday night of apoplexy at his home, 478 Geneva av. Dorchester.

Col. Merrill was one of the best known of the traveling men in this part of the country, and until four years ago, when he was first stricken by his trouble which finally cut short his life, he was again prostrated while on his way home Thursday evening.

Col. Merrill was born in Buckfield, Me., Nov. 9, 1852, the second son of Thomas and Jane B. (Held) Merrill. He was the sole survivor of a family of four brothers.

When in the fall of 1861, his father enlisted in the regiment known as Berdan's sharpshooters, Mrs. Merrill rented the farm and moved to Hebron for the purpose of giving her children a better education in the academy at that place. There the family remained until the father's return at the close of the war, when they moved back to Buckfield.

Young Merrill's first endeavor aside from farm work was in the shoe business. This did not satisfy him and, deciding to learn the printing trade, he entered the office of the Lewiston Gazette, then owned by Colonel Waldron. In 1869, when the National guard of Maine was reorganized, he became a charter member of the Auburn Light Infantry under Capt. Almon C. Pray and served with credit in every grade from corporal up. On July 6, 1880, he was unanimously elected Captain of the company. As first lieutenant he was in command of his company at the famous "Count Out" hurdy at Augusta in the winter of 1879-80.

In 1883 Col. Merrill resigned his commission as captain in the Auburn company to accept the office of commander of the Maine division Sons of Veterans and in August of the same year he was elected commander-in-chief for the United States. On retiring in 1884 he was presented with a gold past commander's badge.

From 1880 to 1883 Col. Merrill was engaged with Allan P. Moore in the printing business in Auburn. Disposing of his interests during the latter year he engaged with the widely-known wholesale paper house of John Carter & Co. to represent their interests in New England, and with that firm he continued until death closed his career. He leaves a wife.

The new quarterly telephone books are out and it gives some idea of the number of telephones in this city. The increase in this city in the past five years has been very great, in fact it is as large as any of the exchanges in New England.

SHEAFE ST. GOAT NO MORE

"Rex" the famous Sheafe street goat, whose life was marked with a volume of queer stunts, is dead.

Characteristic of his breed he feasted when and where he could but his digestive organs failed in their duty when he masticated poison ivy, consequently he shuffled off this mortal coil.

Rex was a product of Cuba and came here on the gunboat Eagle. The animal was considered a beauty and noted for intelligence not often apparent among goats.

TOWN TAXES

Comparison of the Rates for This Year and Last Year

Largely because of the increase of the state tax from $500,000 to $800,000, more than the ordinary interest has attached to the tax rate in the towns throughout the state this year. With the general exception of towns that have such public service plants as water works, which are a valuable and profitable asset, the towns for the most part are free from indebtedness and the consequent burden of heavy interest charges.

In the tabulation below is given the assessed valuation and the tax rates for the current year, and for 1908, in the towns of Rockingham county. The figures have been obtained from the office of the secretary of the state, of the secretary of the state board of equalization, and in a few instances from town clerks.
